Apache Lenya Documentation

by Lenya community

In getting started with Lenya, one must learn not only a number of concepts, but a number of details as well. The Components section will explain the building blocks that make up Lenya, such as the sitemap, publications, and tasks.

You can find here release specific documentation. Although right now we have here the documentation mainly for 1.2.x.. This is our stable releases and should be used for productiv environments.

The 1.4. branch is in Draft status that means that it can be that are just RT (random thoughts) and not yet a documentation.

More documentation (work in progress) can be found at the Apache Lenya Wiki.